Abbott Cotton Martin

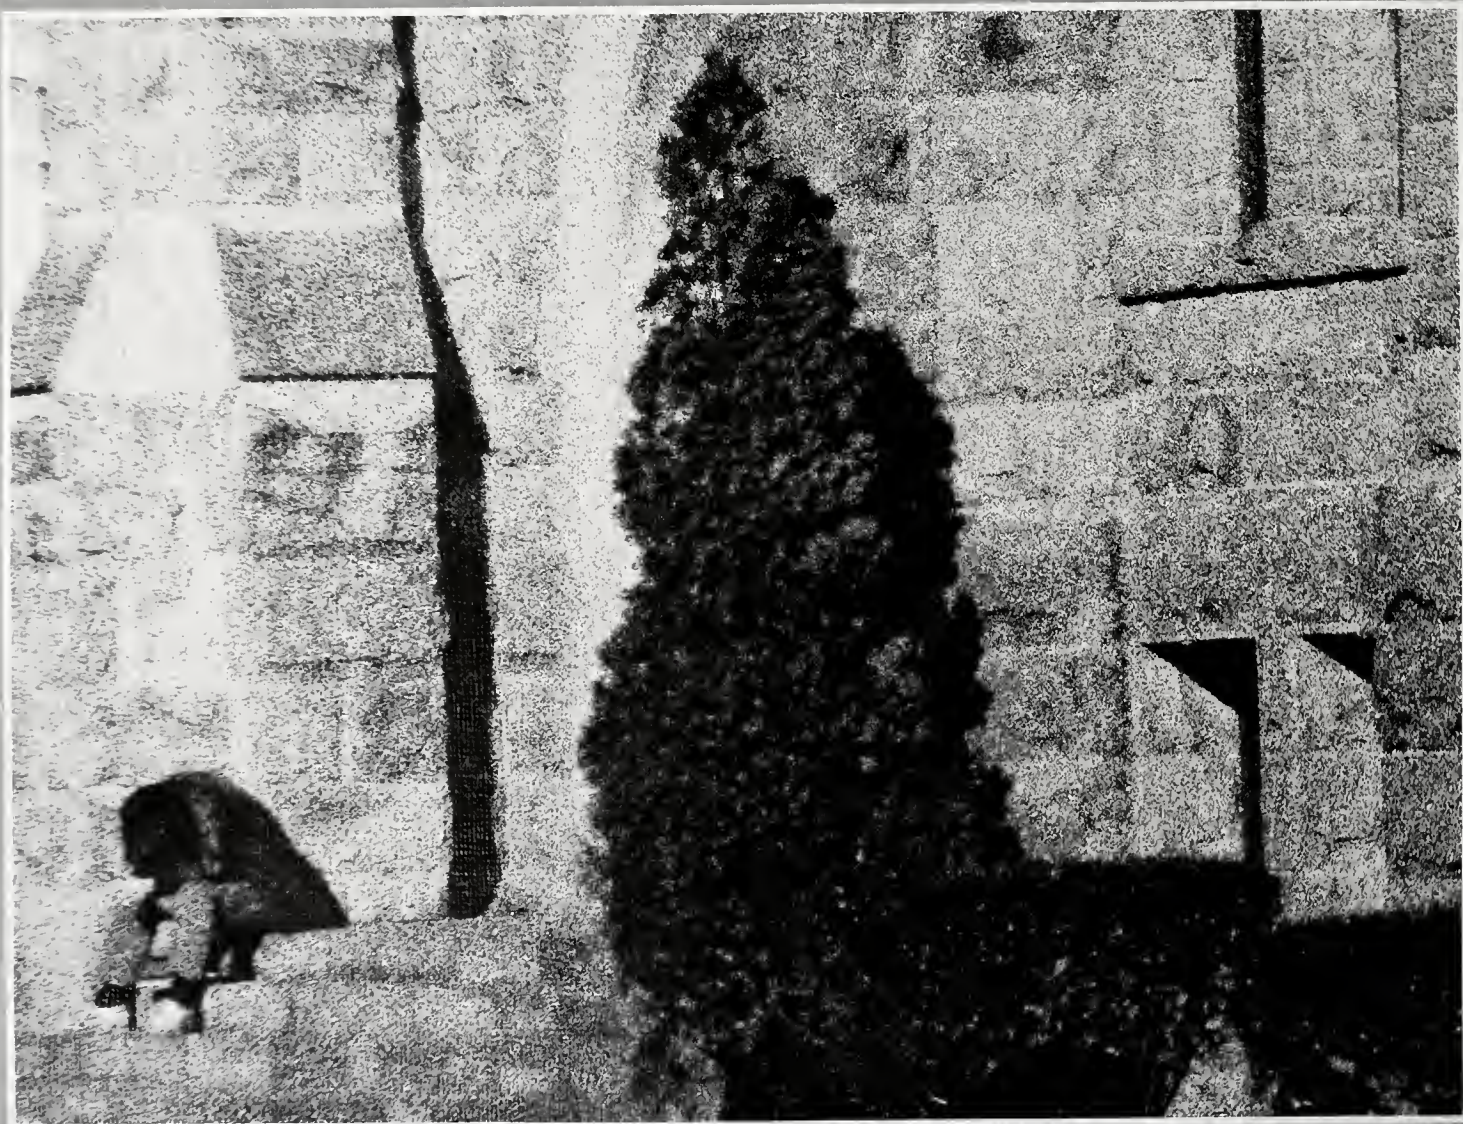

Abbo's Alley

Abbott Cotten Martin's four decades of membership on the College Faculty were marked by two primary distinctions.

He gained the love and the devoted loyalty of many generations of students. After Abbott's death last fall, a graduate of thirty years ago said, "We are grieved by his death, but we are glad that he lived." The plural pronoun "we" was clear.

Abbott did more for the physical beauty of Sewanee than any other man in its history. The Ravine Garden is his monument. But the Ravine Garden was not his only concern. Wherever on the campus an eye may turn, it will have cause for gratitude to Abbott.

Dedication

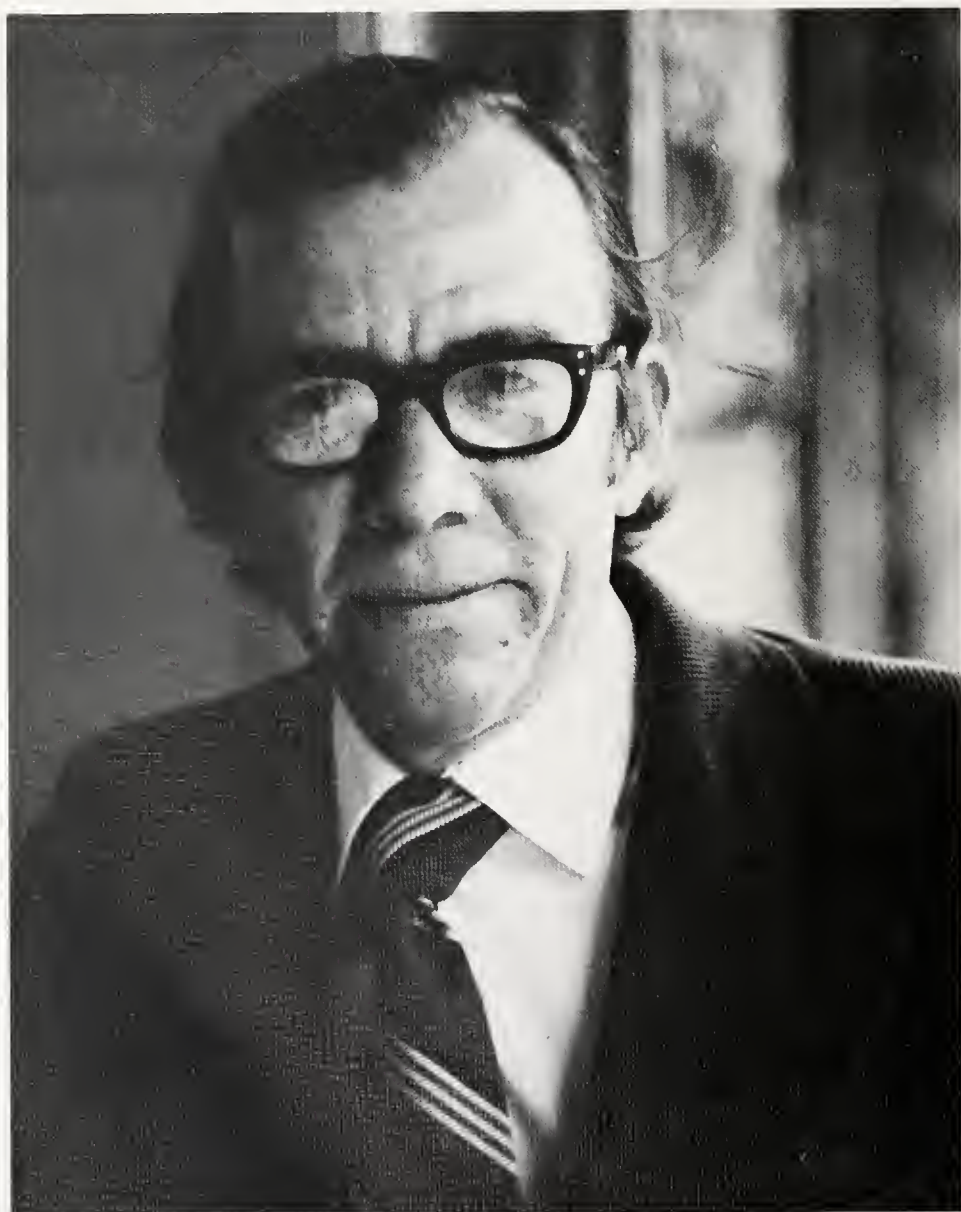

The two hundred and fifty-six pages comprising this book cannot begin to repay the four years that Coach Shirley Majors has given me. During this time he has shown himself to be one of the most unique individuals I have ever met. He has been the source of some of the purest humor and the most well conceived advice I have ever ingested. In fact, the only regret I have concerning my relationship with Shirley Majors is that I could not help give the man an undefeated season in at least one of those four years. All I can give is my sincerest thanks in helping to further my Sewanee education.

GEORGE'S PACKAGE STORE WINCHESTER, TENNESSEE

The SEWANEE BARBER SHOP is the place to go when you need a HAIRCUT, TRIM, or SHAPE for long, long, longer, hair —
The price is still the same — $1.75. Most people are afraid to go to a barber shop because they are afraid of getting too much cut off or they just don't know how they want it. Come in and explain what you want and your hair will be cut to your satisfaction. We need and would appreciate your business.

Echoing silence

Darkness lit up by beams

Light

Seeking its counterpart

In melody

Stillness

Striving for liberation

In a word

Life

In dust

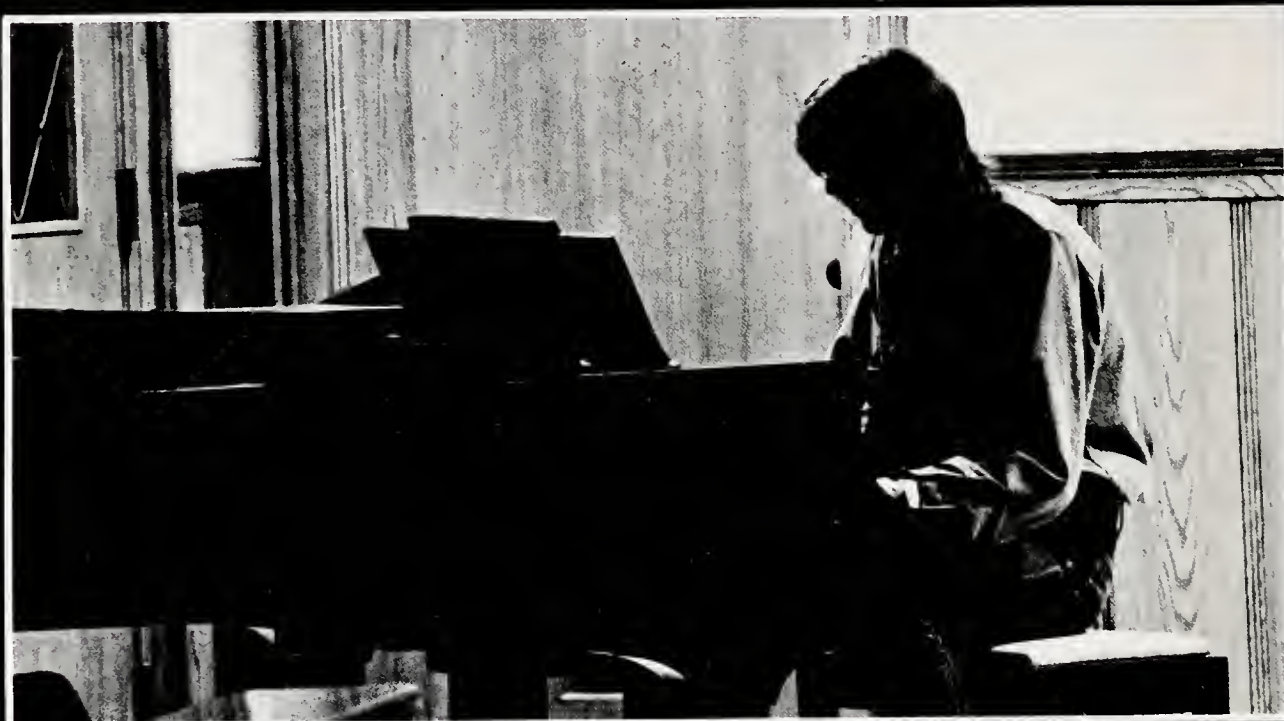

In shadow

How seldom growth and blossom

How seldom fruit

— Dag Hammerskjold

My extra-special thanks to the extensive work of Dave Stodd, Kim Lewis, and Lynn Hutchinson in the darkroom; to Marcia McJadden, Robert Miller, Joe Porter, Leslie Wells, Kathy Kellerman and Mike Kast for performing some of the less glamorous but vital functions necessary for producing the book; Richard Duncan for the cover; to Ed Carlos for the end sheets; to the Publication Board for their patience; and to Johnny Lovett for being not only an extremely professional yearbook representative but a damn good man as well.
